

Questionnaire

Page One

GeoLocation&You

Thank you for taking the time to fill out my questionnaire. This should take no longer than 5 minutes to complete and will help towards my final year project.

From this first page, I am hoping to gauge a basic understand about yourself and your daily Twitter activities.

Required

Male or Female? *

- ☐ Male
- ☐ Female

How old are you? *

- ☐ 18 or under
- ☐ 19 - 24
- ☐ 25 - 39
- ☐ 40 - 54
- ☐ 55 or older

Through what device are you most likely to access your Twitter account? *

- ☐ Mobile
- ☐ Tablet
- ☐ Laptop
- ☐ Computer

How often do you browse Twitter a day? *

- ☐ Less than 1 hour (Infrequently)
- ☐ 1 - 2 hours (Moderate)
- ☐ More than 2 hours (Frequently)

How many tweets are you likely to post a day? *

- ☐ 0 -1 (Infrequently)
- ☐ 2 - 5 (Moderate)
- ☐ More than 5 (Frequently)

How likely are you to read through websites "Terms of Services" or "Terms and Conditions" before agreeing to them? *

- ☐ Everytime
- ☐ Sometimes
- ☐ Never

Do you currently feel safe using Twitter? *

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ No

Do you know exactly what is included with a tweet that you post? *

As stated at the beginning of the questionnaire, when you send out a tweet, you are also giving away information about yourself you may not have been aware of. This information is attached to a tweet, but this is not visible on your timeline or your profile, but someone using Twitter's API (which is a tool that can be used by companies to collect tweets for their own use to create things like websites and widgets) will be able to get this information.

- ☐ Enough to feel safe
- ☐ Not enough to feel safe

Do you think Twitter does a good job of explaining what is included in a tweet? *

- ☐ Yes
☐ No

What insecurities do you have with Twitter? *

- ☐ Potential stalkers
☐ Access to personal information
☐ Manipulation of personal information
☐ Online abuse

Do you add your location to your tweet? *

- ☐ Everytime
☐ Sometimes
☐ Never

Do you allow third party applications to access your Twitter account? *

Third party application in this case means that you sign into an app using your twitter login details, rather than creating a new account for that app. For example, when playing a game on your mobile, you may be asked to "sign in via Twitter."

- ☐ Yes
☐ No

Do you enable "Location Services" or other similar location based features when you access your Twitter accounts through your mobile device? *

Location services are found on mobile devices. On iPhone they are found under "Settings" -> "Privacy". On Android, they are found under "Settings" -> "Location"

- ☐ Yes
☐ No

Would you like to have more control of the information that you are giving out in your tweets? *

- ☐ Yes
☐ No

Continue »

50% completed

Powered by
 Google Forms

This content is neither created nor endorsed by Google.

Report Abuse - Terms of Service - Additional Terms

GeoLocation&You

*Required

GeoLocation&TheFacts

Having carried out research into various works and projects carried out in this field of work, I have found some facts about what is possible from collecting tweets from Twitter and have listed them below.

On this page, I am hoping to see what you feel about these facts and also your opinion on whether you need more control over the information you are giving away.

The following statements are ALL possible and can be obtained from you, how do you feel about each statement? *

These are possible given that you have enabled "Location Services", or if you added your location to your tweet

	Worried	Uncomfortable	I'm OK with it
I can guess where you live	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
I can guess where you work	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
I can guess when you are away from your home	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
I can guess when you are off work	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
I can guess when you have been with your friends	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
I can guess where you have been and at what time of day	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
I can map out where you have been and when	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
I can guess where you are after you send out a tweet	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
By entering a place name or a set of co-ordinates, I can potentially find your tweets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Third-party applications have access to this information also	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Third-party applications can guess where you are at any given time	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Third-party applications can guess when you have been somewhere	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Do you feel safe on Twitter? *

Has your opinion changed, having answered the previous questions on privacy implications?

- ☐ Yes
☐ No

Do you feel that the ideas below are necessary for controlling you location information? *

Keep in mind that statements from the questions above are all possible

	Necessary	Unnecessary
A new feature on Twitter to raise a user's awareness of what information they are giving away with each tweet	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
A new feature on Twitter to hide your personal location information when tweeting from places like home or work	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
A new feature allowing you to control what information you give away when you tweet	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
A new feature allowing you to control who can access your location information	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
A video within Twitter's "Help" menus explaining what is included in a tweet	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
A video within Twitter's "Help" menus explaining how others can use the data from tweets	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
A video within Twitter's "Help" menus why people use the data from tweets for their own work and projects etc	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Warning messages BEFORE agreeing to use a third-party application with your Twitter account, that will potentially give away personal information	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Would you like to have more control of the information that you are giving out in your tweets? Please give any ideas you may have about this, that hasn't been mentioned above.

Has your opinion changed, having answered the previous questions on privacy implications?

« Back

Submit

100%: You made it.

Never submit passwords through Google Forms.

Powered by
Google Forms

This content is neither created nor endorsed by Google.
Report Abuse - Terms of Service - Additional Terms

Submission Page

GeoLocation&You

Your response has been recorded. Thank you for taking the time to complete my questionnaire, your answers will be of great help to me.

Submit another response

This form was created using Google Forms.
Create your own

Google Forms

