

Appendix B

Listings 1 shows that some responses from Google's Places API for multiple search parameters will not be very useful. The following response is taken through a web browser request, to ensure the issue is not within the application itself. The response values for "types" keys do not return relevant results for this given search, in relation to the supplied parameters (which were parking and park in the same request).

Listing 1: Multiple place search for "park" and parking"
